Management @ Work Series

Love @ Work

How loyalty, humanity, spirituality, inspiration and intimacy affect business and the workplace

With the growing need for a wholistic, authentic approach to work and organisations, it is timely to explore the many aspects of 'love' at work.

Rarely is love discussed or considered from a management/ leadership point of view, and yet love incorporates the ideas of humanity, spirituality, inspiration, communication, passion and intimacy.

This broad-ranging book features a diverse range of authors who look at love from both an individual level and an organisational level. $32.95

Speed @ Work

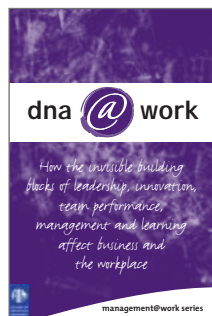

How velocity, turbulence, fast growth, rapid change and strategic agility affect business and the workplace

The rapid pace of life, work and business – ever increasing – has some people excited and inspired, some fearful and some in denial. It is timely to look at the effects of speed on the fields of management, leadership, strategy, innovation and culture.

What are the opportunities, problems, outcomes and innovations that arise from speed and rapid change at work?

This broad-ranging book will look at integral aspects of speed at work and offer guidelines for dealing with this rapid pace of change. $32.95

DNA @ Work

How the invisible building blocks of leadership, innovation, team performance, management and learning affect business and the workplace

What really makes organisations, and people, tick? What are the invisibles?

What is the glue that holds things together ... or gets them stuck?

It is timely to look at the fields of management, leadership, strategy, innovation and culture from this building-block approach – this leads us to DNA @ Work.

This broad-ranging book will look at integral aspects of work and organisation using the metaphor of DNA. $32.95

About the Series

Released June 2006

Management Press

The groundbreaking Management @ Work series uses the lens approach to the world of work in Australia from brand new perspectives. The books present individual chapters by different authors, each a journey in and of itself.

With down-to-earth theory, real-life examples, personal anecdotes, passionate opinion and practical guidelines, the series is a must-read for those wanting to discover more about leadership, self and the art of management.
